

Week 7 Reminders;

Today and Thursday, we are holding Learning Discussions. A strong partnership between home and school really benefits your child's progress, so we strongly encourage you to come and chat with your child's teacher about how we might work together for your child's learning. If you have missed appointments for today, there is still an opportunity to book for Thursday. Bookings can be made online at www.schoolinterviews.co.nz with code: d9nax. Thanks for making arrangements to accommodate care for your child from 12.15 (when school closes today). We appreciate your support.

Learning MATTERS
Fostering universal skills for learning and life

St Patrick's Day Friday 17th March. Your child is able to wear green to school to celebrate the feast day of St Patrick. No gold coins are required.

St Joseph's Day Monday 20th March. All children are able to wear their house colours. We will start our day with a mass to celebrate the feast of St Joseph and the whole school will participate in a tabloids sports day starting in block 2.

10th April – Learning Matters Come along and hear about the warning signs of learning difficulties in literacy and how you as a parent can get the ball rolling for your child. You will walk away with tips and tools for parenting your struggling reader, writer and or speller. This course is suitable for everyone. Book your place on <https://www.eventbrite.co.nz>

Book Fair – Please take the time to look at the Books on display in the hall. If you make any purchase, the school does get a percentage of the profits from the sales. The PTFA would like to thank you all for taking the time to come and have a look around the displays.

God Bless
